

Professional solutions for land
& water resources since 1990

Thinking “inside and outside the banks” for more than 30 years.

Aquascape Environmental was founded in 1990 as a turnkey firm providing professional aquatic resource management services. We currently manage hundreds of acres of water in the Metro Atlanta area and have participated in projects involving lakes, ponds, streams and wetlands across the Southeast.

We recognize that each project, like each body of water, is unique. We work collaboratively with our clients to achieve project goals in a manner that is both budget conscious and environmentally responsible.

“We have been so pleased with your service over the years.
You do what you love very well!
It is evident that you care
about your clients.”
— Julie Jones, Saint Andrews

“All the work gets done without any intrusion to our residents, and our water feature always looks great.”
— Post Alexander

Habitat Restoration

Whether it's a stream, wetland, buffer or lake, restoration is the process of returning a site to its natural form and function. Our restoration work is focused on wetlands and riparian zones — the areas where land and water resources meet, such as streambanks and lakeshores. We use soil bioengineering, geotextiles, native plantings and other techniques to restore the area to a vibrant habitat that is safe for humans, wildlife, and native plant communities.

There are plenty of contractors who will “restore” a stream — but very few have the expertise required to do this type of work properly and effectively. With more than two decades of experience, Aquascape Environmental is the land and water resource restoration expert.

“Aquascape Environmental is the best in the industry! I never worry about the lake, I know you have it under control. Thank you for that peace of mind.”
— Janet Jankowski, Seven Oaks

- Streambank Stabilization
- Stream Restoration
- Wetland Restoration
- Buffer Revegetation
- Littoral Shelf Construction

Stormwater

Developers, property managers and HOAs are now finding themselves responsible for maintaining stormwater management infrastructures (such as retention and detention ponds) to ensure that they operate properly and perform the intended function.

The costs associated with stormwater management can be minimized by maintaining the pond consistently rather than undertaking a big clean-up effort after a problem occurs. Aquascape Environmental offers an extensive range of services to help you meet the regulatory obligations associated with Stormwater Management & Maintenance.

- Site Inspections
- Vegetation Management
- Slope Stabilization & Repairs
- Stormwater BMP Mainatenance
- Infrastructure Repairs
- Sediment & Erosion Control

Consulting

Whether you need a comprehensive sediment study or a basic test of water quality in your neighborhood pond, our consulting services have got you covered. Drawing on our extensive experience and utilizing hands-on field assessments as well as state-of-the art technology, we give you the information you need to make decisions about your land and water resources.

Erosion and sediment control consulting services are overseen by our on-staff Certified Professionals in Erosion & Sediment Control. Pre- and post-development evaluations can prevent work stoppages and costly mitigation requirements, and protect property value.

- Lake & Stream Assessments
- Sediment Evaluations
- Lake Mapping
- E&SC Planning
- Expert Witness Testimony
- Habitat Restoration Design

Fully licensed and insured, Aquascape Environmental enjoys a reputation for excellence, supported by outstanding performance records in project quality, safety and client satisfaction.

Our mission is to provide superior ecological services that promote sound stewardship of our land and water resources.

"Great, reliable service for over ten years!"
